The Journey
Eight Postulates to Live By
By K. J. Janssen

Two-Line Book Synopsis

The Journey: Eight Postulates to Live By, offers a new path to the Kingdom of Heaven, with Eight Postulates showing the way.

Short Book Description

It is unfortunate that we live in a world where we are so absorbed by obtaining “our daily bread” that we don’t take the time to look at the basis for our existence. This void has been mostly filled by organized religions and their dogma. There is little need for an individual to spend time thinking about why he is on the earth and what is expected of him, when dogma readily provides the answers and the way.

The Journey: Eight Postulates to Live By takes exception to this spiritual vacuity by introducing to the seeker a new path that, if followed, can lead one to The Kingdom of God here on earth.

No stone is left unturned in demonstrating the wisdom of adopting this path. Through the medium of a novel, the path to the Kingdom is presented through the ministry of Reverend Aaron Masters, a New Thought minister and the experiences he has in demonstrating the wisdom of the 8 Postulates.

This is a novel that must be read.

Long Book Description

There is a widespread change taking place in what it means to be religious. More and more spiritual people are moving away from ethical guidelines and the disciplines of institutional religion towards a new approach; one that uses reason and common sense to answer the poignant questions that dogma has either left unanswered or has answered unsatisfactorily. We are at the threshold of a new period for Christianity. We are at a time of spiritual renewal when nothing is exempted from our introspection.

New Thought, New Age or New Way is not about the existence of God, but rather what we do about it. We must seek an independent, intimate relationship with our creator. Reason must be applied in much the same way Thomas Paine used it in “The Age of Reason”, addressing such topics such as:

- The divine purpose of life.
- Free will and choices
- Sin and punishment
- Non-judgment

The Journey introduces the technique of Reflection, where we are able to touch our Christ Consciousness (the Spirit of God within us) and find the “way” in all matters in our lives. Using the medium of an inspirational novel, the quest for truth becomes the onus of the “seeker”. The protagonist, Reverend Aaron Masters is the consummate seeker. His ministry is rich with anecdotal situations that demonstrate the Postulates of New Thought and the path that a seeker can follow to uncover the keys to the kingdom of God. This is a human interest story of a seeker wending his way through the realities of contemporary Christian beliefs. Old and new ideas are examined as Reverend Masters confronts a myriad of life and death situations that challenge his deep spiritual convictions.

The novel is as provocative as it is inspirational. It’s a spiritual book about a new way of thinking. As long as we’re alive, there is no final reckoning. The best one can do is to be comfortable about what he truly believes. The Journey provides this comfort to those who seek it.
